

The European Academy of Nursing Science The EANS Winter e-Summit

Host of webinar: Tartu Health Care College and the University of Tartu, Estonia

21 February, 2022

Call for abstracts for poster presentation

You are warmly invited to submit an abstract for the EANS Winter e-Summit (webinar) 2022. The subject should preferably reflect the theme of the webinar. The webinar will be hosted by the Tartu Health Care College and University of Tartu, Estonia.

The topic for this year's EANS Winter webinar is:

The contribution of nursing science to e-health

For the 2022 EANS Winter e-Summit we are asking EANS members to present empirical studies and systematic reviews highlighting how nursing science contributes to e-health. Abstracts can refer to the implementation of nursing e-health interventions, the effects of e-health on patients' and health organisations outcomes, ethics of e-health use, educational and managerial aspects of e-health.

If you want to contribute by presenting your work, please submit your abstract before January 22, 2022.

All abstracts will be peer reviewed. We expect to inform you on the outcome of the peer review process by January 31, 2022.

You can submit your abstract here